

Jason

Czarnecki, who teaches environmental and natural resources law at Vermont Law School, has a new blog, [Czarnecki.com: Life, Law, and the Environment](http://Czarnecki.com: Life, Law, and the Environment). Jason often has interesting things to say about the relationship of everyday life to environmentalism and environmental law. His blog is sure to be worth checking out.