

The National Commission has added some valuable additional material to its cite:

- A multi-media resource, especially useful for students and journalists.
- For those who want to dive deeper, the Chief Counsel's report is a great resource. It presents a good deal of evidence unfavorable to BP, but also significant criticism of Transocean and Halliburton.

Of course, there's a lot of material out there on the web already, but one-stop shopping is always nice.
