

UC Berkeley Law is hosting a free webinar on best practices for integrating infill-supportive policies into general plans. Joining us will be Chris Calfee from the Governor's Office of Planning and Research (OPR), who will provide the latest on the general plan guidelines update process.

This web-based event will take place on December 9th (next Tuesday) from 10 to 11am. It will cover the Center for Law, Energy and the Environment's (CLEE) new guidance report on infill planning, which reviews 20 infill-supportive policies and includes sample policy language and recommendations on financing, CEQA exemptions, and other infill implementation measures. We'll have time for audience Q&A.

Register here or via this link (attendance is limited). And you can download the new infill planning report here. Hope to "see" you there...