

The University of Copenhagen has issued a synthesis report on Climate Change: Global Risks, Challenges and Decisions. A good summary can be found here. The authors include such luminaries as Sir Nicholas Stern (author of the Stern Report) and Dan Kammen (from Berkeley's Energy and Resources Group). The bottom line: "further inaction is inexcusable."

Future generations will ask about us: What did we know? And when did we know it?
