

Happy Birthday!

Legal Planet has been up and running for a year now.* In that time, we've had almost 240,000 viewings, 839 comments, and over 860 posts .

If we could just manage to have someone to reveal "LegalPlanetgate," we could become instantly world famous and ramp up our audience share even more!

Actually, this is an approximation because we had a predecessor blog (Environmental Law and Policy) for a few months and because we didn't immediately go public with the blog. But a year is about right.*

We're quite sure that if someone wants to hack into our emails, they will quickly die of boredom, but hey, give it a try! (Although we feel obliged to mention that it may be a federal offense; also we hereby disclaim any responsibility if you do in fact die of boredom.)*
