Thanks to our loyal readers, today we reached a million hits to our site. Since its inception in 2009 we've posted 2,226 posts (unless Dan's already posted another one since I wrote this :)) on subjects ranging from climate change (of course) to New York's soda ban to whether rain is a miracle. We've now got 17 regular bloggers and hundreds of regular followers.

Thank you readers! And let us know if you have any suggestions for Legal Planet in the comments section or via email.
