In addition to the remarkable turnout for the Climate March in New York City, this weekend also kicked off the NYC to DC Climate Ride, which left Manhattan on Saturday, September 20. The Emmett Institute has its very own rider with Professor Ted Parson pedaling the 300 miles in 5 days. He's concluding the ride on Wednesday and will be the featured speaker in Washington, D.C. at the conclusion of the ride.

Dan and Rae Emmett, our extraordinary supporters, are matching — dollar for dollar — any contributions to the Emmett Institute through the Climate Ride. So if you're interested in seeing your dollars doubled, here's the link:
https://www.law.ucla.edu/alumni/climate-ride/

And in the mean time, go Ted!